Work History

Lead Developer, Convx (free music app for Android, my own open-source project) | 2026 to Current

- Rebuilt an open-source music app in Kotlin and Jetpack Compose into a free app with 63,000+ downloads and 489 GitHub stars. Over half of today's code is mine.
- Kept scrolling smooth on 120 Hz phone screens by measuring frame times and removing wasted drawing work.
- Built a frosted-glass look that blurs and bends whatever is behind it, live, so the app feels like a premium product.
- Plays songs from YouTube Music, JioSaavn and other sources through one player (Media3/ExoPlayer, 10+ REST API integrations), with offline downloads and Android Auto.
- Ship every release myself: GitHub Actions builds the signed app and the app updates itself. I review fixes sent in by other developers.

Solo Developer, Whispry (voice typing app for Android, my own project) | 2026

- Built alone: hold a button, speak, and your words are typed into any app. Written in Kotlin and Compose with Hilt.
- Users bring their own AI key (Groq or any OpenAI-compatible API), so their voice goes straight to the AI company, never through my server, and I pay nothing to run it.
- Long recordings are turned into text in the background with WorkManager, even if the app is closed. Works in 11 languages, including Hinglish.

Open Source Contribution

- Added a custom UI feature to Echo Music, a popular open-source Android music app. The maintainers accepted it into the app (the project has since been taken down).
